

WINTER SEMINARS 2006

The Friends of the Wellington Botanic Garden held two seminars in 2006 on The Lady Norwood Rose Garden and Heritage Roses in the Bolton Street Memorial Park.

Published here are the presentations by

Walter Cook - Historian of the Botanic Garden, on "The Lady Norwood Rose Garden"

Leanne Killalea and Rachel Solomon - Curators, Botanic Garden, on "Management and Care at the Lady Norwood Rose Garden".

Rodney Read - former member of the staff of the Botanic Garden, on "A history of plants in the Bolton Street Memorial Park".

Leanne Killalea and Rachel Solomon - Curators, Botanic Garden, on "Management and Care at the Bolton Street Memorial Park".

Lloyd Chapman - Trinity Farm Rose Museum, Otaki, on "Cemetery and Graveyard History and the History of Roses".

The thanks of the Friends are extended to the above for their presentations and also to

Ron and Loraine Clare - Heritage Rose Society for their talk on the work of the Society (see www.heritageroses.org.nz)

Father Paul Shanahan and Clive Hamilton - Wellington Rose Society, for their talk and pruning demonstration

David Sole - Manager, Wellington Botanic Garden, for his support and participation.

Ted Woodfield President